Cleanse – Nourish – Defend Organically!

Skin is the largest organ of the human body and plays a role in protection against water loss, absorption of noxious substances and intrusion from micro-organisms. The skin of all newborns, and especially preterm infants, is thinner and has fewer protective layers,^{1,2} making it more susceptible to infection and irritation.¹ Using products made with healthy and organic ingredients is important because the skin can absorb much of what it comes into contact with very quickly. When the skin is thin or injured, absorption is increased making babies especially vulnerable.^{1,2}

Healthcare professionals have the opportunity to model healthy and safe product choices. Dandle•LION organic skin care products are free from all toxins, proteins, artificial ingredients, chemicals or pesticides. Give your patients the best start possible with organic skin care!
